- Building a Second Brain — Tiago Forte
- The Obstacle Is the Way — Ryan Holiday

Supporting Resource: Greater Good Science Center — UC Berkeley
Mindfulness, emotional intelligence, resilience and well-being.

Learning Method: Learn → Understand → Practice → Apply → Record → Review

Daily target: 30–60 minutes, Daily record: What I learned, What I practiced, How I applied it, What I discovered, What I need to improve

Block 01 Targets: By Day 100: Establish consistent learning and reading habits, Improve focus and attention control, Develop structured thinking, Improve emotional awareness, Establish a decision-making framework, Establish a personal knowledge system, Develop regular reflection and resilience practices.

Definition of Done: Mind & Intelligence — Step 01 is complete when the above systems are established, practiced and reviewed using 100 days of real evidence.

Core Principle: Knowledge is not the goal. Improved thinking and behaviour are the goal.

PILLAR 02 — PHYSICAL HEALTH:

Duration: 100 Days

Stage: Step 01 — Physical Foundation

Vision: Build a healthy, energetic and physically capable body through consistent movement, exercise, nutrition, sleep and recovery.

Mission: Establish a sustainable physical-health system that makes exercise, healthy eating, adequate sleep and recovery a normal part of daily life.

100-Day Syllabus:

| Module | Days | Focus |
|---|---|---|
| P01 — Baseline & Awareness | 1–10 | Current fitness, weight, habits, lifestyle |
| P02 — Movement & Mobility | 11–25 | Daily movement, mobility, posture |
| P03 — Strength & Fitness | 26–50 | Strength, endurance, progressive exercise |
| P04 — Nutrition | 51–65 | Food quality, portions, hydration, eating habits |
| P05 — Sleep & Recovery | 66–80 | Sleep routine, recovery, rest |
| P06 — Physical Discipline | 81–90 | Consistency, training discipline, lifestyle control |
| P07 — Assessment & Integration | 91–100 | Measure progress and establish long-term system |

SAFE BEGINNER EXERCISE PLAN

Principle: Start easy → establish technique → build consistency → gradually increase.

If you have a medical condition, significant pain, or have been inactive for a long time, get appropriate medical clearance before starting vigorous exercise. Stop an exercise that causes sharp pain, chest pain, faintness, or unusual severe breathlessness and seek medical advice.

Weekly Schedule:

| Day | Training |
|---|---|
| Monday | Strength A + short walk |
| Tuesday | 25–40 min easy/moderate walk |
| Wednesday | Strength B + mobility |
| Thursday | Easy walk + mobility |
| Friday | Strength A + short walk |
| Saturday | Longer easy walk / recreational activity |
| Sunday | Rest + gentle mobility |

The following week, alternate A/B/A with B/A/B.

Strength A:  Warm-up: 5–10 minutes easy walking + gentle mobility: 1) Chair/bodyweight squat — 2 × 8–12, 2) Wall/incline push-up — 2 × 6–12, 3) Glute bridge — 2 × 10–15, 4) Backpack or resistance-band row — 2 × 8–12, 5) Dead bug — 2 × 6–10 each side

Strength B: Warm-up: 5–10 minutes: 1) Sit-to-stand — 2 × 8–12, 2) Incline push-up — 2 × 6–12, 3) Hip hinge / light Romanian deadlift pattern — 2 × 8–12, 4) Backpack/band row — 2 × 8–12, 5) Bird dog — 2 × 6–10 each side

Walking / Cardio:  Start with a pace at which you can still speak in short sentences.

Weeks 1–2: 20–30 minutes, Weeks 3–4: 25–35 minutes, Weeks 5–8: 30–40 minutes, Weeks 9–12+: 30–45 minutes

Increase duration gradually rather than trying to maximize intensity.

Progression: When an exercise becomes comfortable with good form:

Repetitions ↑ → sets ↑ → resistance ↑

Change only one variable at a time. Do not train to failure as a beginner. Aim to finish most sets feeling that you could still perform 2–3 additional good repetitions.

Daily Movement: Exercise sessions are only one part of physical health.

Every day: Walk regularly, Break up long periods of sitting, Use stairs when practical, Perform brief mobility/stretching when needed, Spend time outdoors when possible.

Recovery: Prioritize: Adequate sleep, Rest days, Hydration, Nutritious food, Gradual progression, Good exercise technique

Pain is not a requirement for progress.

Block 01 Physical Targets: By Day 100:

- Establish 3 strength sessions/week as a sustainable baseline.
- Establish regular walking/cardio.
- Improve basic strength and movement quality.
- Increase daily physical activity.
- Establish better nutrition and hydration habits.
- Establish a consistent sleep routine.
- Track physical performance and recovery.
- Build a sustainable long-term exercise system.

Definition of Done: Physical Health — Step 01 is complete when a consistent exercise, movement, nutrition, sleep and recovery system has been established and supported by 100 days of real tracking and review.

Core Principle: Consistency before intensity.

PILLAR 03 — ISLAMIC & SPIRITUAL LIFE

Duration: 100 Days

Vision: To deepen Islamic knowledge, strengthen spiritual discipline, and maintain a consistent connection with the Qur'an, classical Islamic scholarship and practical religious learning.

Mission: Establish a sustainable daily study system focused on Tafseer Swavi, Awariful Ma'arif, fiqh problem-solving and Takassus course revision, while maintaining regular worship and spiritual practice.

Daily Commitments:

1. Tafseer Swavi: Read 3 pages daily.
2. Awariful Ma'arif: Read 3 pages daily.
3. Fiqh: Study and document 1 fiqh problem daily using the "Preshnotharam Group" and "Al-Bu'uth Al-Shafi'iyyah" in Telligram.
4. Takassus Course: Allocate daily time for revision, reference and completion of any remaining lessons.
5. Spiritual Practice: Maintain existing worship, Qur'an recitation, wird, dhikr and personal spiritual discipline.

100-Day Targets: Complete 300 pages of Tafseer Swavi study, Complete 300 pages of Awariful Ma'arif reading, Study and document 100 fiqh problems, Maintain daily Takassus revision and complete remaining course requirements, Maintain a consistent spiritual routine throughout the block.

Review System: Daily: Record pages read, fiqh problem studied, Takassus activity and spiritual practice, Weekly: Review notes, revisit difficult topics and assess consistency, Day 30, 60 and 90: Assess progress against targets and adjust workload if necessary, Day 100: Verify completion, organize study notes and define the next stage.

Definition of Done: The daily study system is established and sustained; the planned reading targets are completed or accurately reconciled against the selected editions; fiqh problems are documented; Takassus revision and remaining course requirements are reviewed; and the spiritual routine is maintained.

Operating Principle: Consistency in study, depth in understanding, revision for retention, and practical application of knowledge.

PILLAR 04 — FINANCIAL STABILITY

Duration: 100 Days
Primary Income Source: Employment
Current Monthly Personal Take-Home Income Range: ₹30,000–₹50,000
Known Debt Position: Total outstanding debt exceeds ₹1,00,000
Strategic Priority: Balanced financial control, debt reduction, savings and income growth

Vision: To become financially stable, responsible and increasingly independent through reliable income, disciplined money management, controlled liabilities, consistent savings and informed financial decisions. Mission: Establish a complete personal financial management system that provides clear visibility into income, expenses, debt, savings and cash flow. Maintain employment income, meet financial obligations, reduce outstanding debt, establish an emergency reserve and develop realistic opportunities for income growth.

Primary Objectives:

1. Establish an accurate record of all personal income, expenses, debts, assets and financial obligations.
2. Maintain a practical monthly budget and a consistent transaction-recording system.
3. Make all required debt payments on time and implement a documented debt-reduction strategy.
4. Build a starter emergency reserve without compromising essential expenses or urgent debt obligations.
5. Protect employment stability and pursue one practical income-growth action each week.
6. Maintain separate and accurate records for personal finances and any business activity.
7. Complete weekly reviews, monthly financial reviews and a final Day 100 assessment.

Measurable 100-Day Targets:

Financial Audit: Complete the initial financial audit by Day 7, Record 100% of known income, expenses, debts and financial obligations, Document the balance, interest rate where applicable, minimum payment and due date for each debt.

Budget and Cash Flow: Prepare a monthly budget based on actual income and essential expenses, Record transactions consistently throughout the block, Complete one financial review every week, Identify and address avoidable spending where feasible.

Debt Management: Maintain all required debt payments according to their terms, Establish an extra-repayment plan based on verified disposable surplus, Prioritize expensive debt while considering due dates, penalties and other contractual consequences, Measure the net change in total outstanding debt between the start and end of the block.

Emergency Savings: Establish a starter-reserve target of ₹5,000, Aim for ₹10,000 if cash flow permits and urgent debt obligations remain current. Do not borrow money to meet the savings target. Define a longer-term emergency-fund target based on essential monthly expenses.

Income Development: Complete at least one practical income-growth action per week, Prioritize job stability, reliable salary collection and realistic opportunities to improve earning capacity.

5. Debt and Savings Policy: Apply the following priority order:

1. Essential living costs and the ability to continue earning.
2. Required debt payments and urgent financial obligations.
3. A small starter emergency reserve, where affordable.
4. Additional repayments toward the highest-cost debt.
5. Increased savings and longer-term financial goals as debt pressure declines.

Calculate available surplus as: Take-Home Income – Essential Expenses – Required Debt Payments.

Allocate only verified surplus to additional debt payments, savings and optional spending. If the budget is negative, address the deficit before setting additional repayment or savings commitments.

6. Weekly Execution

- Week 1: Complete the financial audit.
- Week 2: Establish the monthly budget.
- Week 3: Organize personal and business records separately.
- Week 4: Review and reduce avoidable expenses where possible.
- Week 5: Establish the debt register and repayment priority.
- Week 6: Organize payment reminders and due dates.
- Week 7: Establish the emergency-reserve system.
- Week 8: Complete a monthly cash-flow review.
- Week 9: Complete an employment or income-growth action.
- Week 10: Review debt progress and make an affordable additional repayment if possible.
- Week 11: Correct budget variances.
- Week 12: Review income and any separate business results.
- Week 13: Review emergency savings and upcoming obligations.
- Week 14: Reconcile records and prepare the final assessment.
- Days 99–100: Complete the Block 01 financial review and define Block 02 targets.

Review and Reporting: Daily: Record transactions and check upcoming obligations. Weekly: Review spending, cash flow, debt payments and savings progress. Monthly: Reconcile income, expenses, debt balances and savings.

Day 100: Compare the opening and closing financial positions, document achievements and unresolved risks, and establish the next-stage targets.

Definition of Done: Block 01 is complete when the financial baseline is documented, the budget and tracking systems are operational, debt obligations are organized, a realistic repayment plan is active, the starter savings target has been pursued according to affordability, and a verified financial review has been completed.

Operating Principle: Know the numbers. Protect essential needs. Meet obligations. Reduce expensive debt. Build savings gradually. Increase income responsibly.

PILLAR 05 — PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

Duration: 100 Days | Focus Areas: Professional & Practical Skills, Communication & Language, Reading & General Knowledge, Digital & AI Skills Vision: To become a capable, adaptable and self-directed learner who communicates effectively, applies valuable professional skills, develops broad knowledge and uses digital and AI tools responsibly. | Mission: Build a sustainable personal development system that converts structured learning into practical competence, useful work outputs and measurable improvement.
